

QDialog

```
classDiagram class QDialog class Login
    Login --|> QDialog
```

The diagram illustrates a class hierarchy where the Login class inherits from the QDialog class. The QDialog class is represented by a white rectangular box with a thin gray border at the top. The Login class is represented by a gray rectangular box with a thick black border at the bottom. A dark blue arrow points vertically from the top center of the Login box to the bottom center of the QDialog box, indicating the inheritance relationship.

Login